

Thanksgiving

Dining Room Furniture.

It's time to think of Turkey and note the surroundings in the room where it will be served. Particular people want everything in keeping with the "feast" that is to be enjoyed, and help fill out the most important part of this occasion by offering you a fine selection of Dining Room Furniture at prices that are in keeping with the times. Suppose you come here and look at our assortment.

Dining Tables, round or square top, $4.50 up
Sideboards, $13.50 up
Chairs, $1.00 up

The Lee Bros. Furniture Co.,

1179 Main St., Cor. Golden Hill St.,
BRIDGEPORT, CONNECTICUT.
Telephone 2455.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

BETHEL.

CLEVER WORK OF MR. NICHOLS.

Constable W. J. Nichols is to be commended for doing a good piece of detective work last Tuesday morning. Early in the morning Philo Hubbell, a Bethel man, called at Mr. Nichols' stable to hire a team. Mr. Nichols, knowing the man's record, was suspicious at once that something was wrong. So he hitched up another team and followed the man and tracked him out on the Great Pasture road, where he saw Mr. Hubbell stop and go over the fence and get two bags of something and put them in the wagon. He then drove on a little further and repeated this operation, this time getting three bags. After these were loaded he started towards Danbury. At about this time he caught a glimpse of the sheriff and evidently was a little suspicious that he was being watched and so changed his course and started toward Bethel at a lively clip. But Sheriff Nichols was too much for him and before he reached here Mr. Nichols overtook him and put him under arrest and seized the bags which contained dead chickens which he evidently had started for Danbury to market. Mr. Hubbell was put in the lockup on Wednesday morning was to have had a hearing. When they went for their man, Wednesday morning, he had broken out from the lockup and had flown and has not yet been recaptured. Mr. Hubbell has just been returned from the Bridgeport jail, where he had been serving several months' sentence for a similar offense.

No better stock and poultry food on the market than Dr. Hens'. It keeps the animals healthy and active. Charles J. Enright, the druggist in Bethel sells it. Try a small box and you will buy more.

Many names and Winchester heaters, a better make on the market, for sale by Fred A. Bickel, the plumber.

REDDING.

A GAME DINNER PROVIDED.
Last Tuesday at H. O. McCallum and family were eating dinner they heard a crash in the front room and started in to see what was the matter and to their surprise found a few large partridges which had flown against the window and broke it in. The bird managed to flutter to the further side of the window where he lay helpless. Mr. McCallum soon put the bird out of misery and was able to get a game dinner without much trouble to himself. Dinner was served at the house and the bird probably was frightened and flew so fast it came in contact with the window before it was aware of it.

THE BEST $2.00 B. O. on the market can be found at French's, Bethel.

Extra quality, 100 a yard, at French's, Bethel.

Dr. Hens', who was so badly injured about two weeks ago, is now gaining slowly. The pattern of Redding Grange presented Mr. Hens' a handsome basket of fruit. Mrs. W. H. Jenson and son, Chas. Jenson, are spending a few weeks in Philadelphia with friends.

ROXBURY.

THE DAVIDSON-BABCOCK CASE IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

The case of R. Randall Davidson vs. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Babcock of Roxbury was on trial before Judge Ralph Wheeler in the Superior court at New Milford, last week, and Monday and Tuesday of this week. The case has been followed with deep interest, a large delegation from Roxbury being present every day. Great interest centered in the testimony of Judge Preston, who drew the deed that Jonah Davidson (father of Randall Davidson) signed. Judge Preston said in part: On Saturday, May 6, 1905, Walter D. Babcock came to my office and said Jonah Davidson wished to see me. We told him that I hadn't time to come that day but would drive over as soon as I could. On the day appointed, Babcock came along. I took him in the carriage and we went over to Mr. Davidson's place. Jonah Davidson was in bed. He told me that he wanted to deed his place to Mr. and Mrs. Babcock and that they were to take care of him during the balance of his life. He spoke of other property, his farming tools which he wished Mr. Babcock to have. I inquired if there was anything else, and if the household furniture was to be included in the gift. He said not. I asked Mr. Davidson about the boundary of the farm. Mr. Babcock got me a memorandum of the deed. I took a memorandum of what Mr. Davidson told me, after he came home. I asked him if he did not think it was best to send for Randall Davidson, but he said it would make no difference. I tried to get Mr. Randall Davidson by telephone, but did not succeed. Later I sent him a telegram. He came up on Tuesday and we all arrived at Mr. Jonah Davidson's place about 1.45 p. m. There was present Randall Davidson, Henry Davidson, Henry Warner and P. P. Randall. Randall said to his uncle that his father seemed determined to deed away the place. He asked me to talk with his father about it. He thought it would be better to hire some one to take care of him. Jonah Davidson said he did not wish to. Henry Davidson went in to have a talk with his brother, Jonah, and coming out he said: "I am bound to do it. I might as well get through with the work." He asked him (Jonah Davidson) if he wanted to sign the deed, which he did. Mr. Babcock holding him up in bed while he signed the deed. I asked him if it was his own free act and deed and he replied that it was. Henry Davidson went into the bedroom and a few minutes later he and Randall Davidson went into the bedroom and bade Jonah Davidson good-bye, and coming out walked to the station. Mr. Davidson asked me what my bill was and I replied: "Two dollars." He handed me a five dollar bill and gave him three dollars in change. I thought he was mentally capable of understanding the contents of the deed at the time he signed it. His mind seemed perfectly good.

On the cross examination conducted by State's Attorney Williams of New Haven, which was especially fierce, Judge Preston stated that Mr. Davidson appeared feeble as he lay in bed, although not entirely helpless. Judge Preston said: "I did not think he could live long" (not less than a couple of hundred years) remarked Mr. Williams in sarcasm. "It appeared to me," continued Judge Preston, "as if he was nearly through with this world and I never expected to see him any more." Charles W. Hodge testified that Jonah Davidson came to his place on April 7, 1905, and bought a dozen blind fowls, amounting to 50 cents. "He was not there over 10 minutes," Mr. State's Attorney Williams began his argument in behalf of his client, Randall Davidson, shortly after 2 o'clock Tuesday. He reviewed the testimony of George Hurlbut, a prominent Roxbury merchant, who had been Jonah Davidson only a week before the signing of the deed. Mr. Hurlbut was "astonished at the evidence of decay," he did not consider him a feeble man. Hurlbut, "as capable of doing business at this time, and I have known him in New York for many years," the testimony of Rev. Mr. Pickett, pastor of the Methodist church at this time, who had called upon Mr. Davidson within two weeks of his death. "He did not know me," said Rev. Mr. Pickett, in referring to Mr. Davidson. As showing the confidence Jonah Davidson placed in his son, Randall, Mr. Williams stated the incident of Mark Bradley conveying Frank P. Boles to Mr. Davidson's home, as Mr. Davidson saw him in reference to some monuments work Mr. Davidson had thought of having done. Mr. Davidson said: "Yes, I want the work done, but wait until Randall comes up." John Minor, a prominent citizen of the town, was surprised at the change in Mr. Davidson. "He looked as if he were near his end and as if he was almost gone," Mr. Minor stated. "Of all the witnesses who have been before you, your honor," said Mr. Williams, "there one whose testimony you would have more faith in than that of Mrs. Alice Merwin?"

State's Attorney Warner of Salisbury, who opened the case for the Babcocks, spoke in his usual vigorous manner. He said in part: "Mr. Davidson had lived 365 days longer, Randall Davidson would not have appeared in this court to defend his father's deed. I ask you to scrutinize the actions of this loving son." And then turning to Randall Davidson, and raising his hand, Judge Warner exclaimed dramatically, "Why wasn't you there to care for your aged father?" To the question, "Why don't you come here and care for you?" almost every witness testified that that would not be best. The contract he made with the Babcocks was a perfectly natural one. The only pity is, Randall Davidson, that you did not go to see your old father often. One of the witnesses has testified that Jonah Davidson said, "The boy, Randall, was all right, but he did not want any more ministrations of his daughter-in-law." How can Attorney Williams call the Babcocks designing, villainous, and conspirators, when they see for Randall Davidson at the time this deed was to be drawn. On the occasion of signing the deed the only important thing came from Randall and Henry Davidson.

Attorney Arthur Warner of Woodbury closed the case for the Babcocks, while Attorney Williams spoke forcibly and eloquently for his client.

KENT.

A DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.
Every one is looking forward with pleasure to the dramatic entertainment to be given in Hull's Opera house at Kent on Friday evening, November 23, at 8 o'clock. A farce entitled "A Charming Dish Tragedy," will open the evening with the following heavy cast: Mrs. Grant, Miss Constance Haxton, Jennie, her servant, Dorothy Hopson, Arthur, her husband, a little hard of hearing, Mrs. Ruth Fuller Field, Jim, Mrs. Grant's brother, and nephew-in-law to Aunt Loretta, Mrs. S. Thayer. Next will be presented the drama, "Barbara," by Jerome K. Jerome. Mrs. Ruth Roberts, Lillie, Barbara's adopted sister, Miss Dorothy Hopson, Cecil, a poor young author, E. R. Haley, Mr. Finslow, a country doctor, H. S. Thayer. But that is not all. After the drama, ice cream and cake will be served for 15c a plate, and "Kent school" will sing some of their jolly songs to help round out the social evening. Admission 25c; children 15c. All are cordially invited. The proceeds are for the benefit of St. Andrew's church.

STEVENSON.

HUNTERS FIND LITTLE GAME.
Messrs Nichols and Farnum of New Haven were at Monterey Bryant's, last week, to enjoy a tramp through the woods in search of game. Many hunters arrived at the house from the city, but they do not have very good luck, this fall.

A CHURCH SOCIABLE.
A church sociable was held at the residence of E. S. Hinman, last week Wednesday evening, about 40 were realized.

Miss Elizabeth Washington has returned from the New Haven hospital and is recovering nicely from the operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Ann Nash is spending a few weeks at the home of her son, Frank Nash.

Mrs. Harriet Dickerman of New Haven is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradley.

George Chaffield of Waterbury has been a guest at C. B. French's, for several days.

Miss Emily of Naugatuck has been a recent visitor at The Maples.

Master Joe Wheeler has been with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James what Mr. Davidson told me, after he came home. I asked him if he did not think it was best to send for Randall Davidson, but he said it would make no difference. I tried to get Mr. Randall Davidson by telephone, but did not succeed. Later I sent him a telegram. He came up on Tuesday and we all arrived at Mr. Jonah Davidson's place about 1.45 p. m. There was present Randall Davidson, Henry Davidson, Henry Warner and P. P. Randall.

Randall said to his uncle that his father seemed determined to deed away the place. He asked me to talk with his father about it. He thought it would be better to hire some one to take care of him. Jonah Davidson said he did not wish to. Henry Davidson went in to have a talk with his brother, Jonah, and coming out he said: "I am bound to do it. I might as well get through with the work." He asked him (Jonah Davidson) if he wanted to sign the deed, which he did. Mr. Babcock holding him up in bed while he signed the deed. I asked him if it was his own free act and deed and he replied that it was. Henry Davidson went into the bedroom and a few minutes later he and Randall Davidson went into the bedroom and bade Jonah Davidson good-bye, and coming out walked to the station. Mr. Davidson asked me what my bill was and I replied: "Two dollars." He handed me a five dollar bill and gave him three dollars in change. I thought he was mentally capable of understanding the contents of the deed at the time he signed it. His mind seemed perfectly good.

On the cross examination conducted by State's Attorney Williams of New Haven, which was especially fierce, Judge Preston stated that Mr. Davidson appeared feeble as he lay in bed, although not entirely helpless. Judge Preston said: "I did not think he could live long" (not less than a couple of hundred years) remarked Mr. Williams in sarcasm. "It appeared to me," continued Judge Preston, "as if he was nearly through with this world and I never expected to see him any more." Charles W. Hodge testified that Jonah Davidson came to his place on April 7, 1905, and bought a dozen blind fowls, amounting to 50 cents. "He was not there over 10 minutes," Mr. State's Attorney Williams began his argument in behalf of his client, Randall Davidson, shortly after 2 o'clock Tuesday. He reviewed the testimony of George Hurlbut, a prominent Roxbury merchant, who had been Jonah Davidson only a week before the signing of the deed. Mr. Hurlbut was "astonished at the evidence of decay," he did not consider him a feeble man. Hurlbut, "as capable of doing business at this time, and I have known him in New York for many years," the testimony of Rev. Mr. Pickett, pastor of the Methodist church at this time, who had called upon Mr. Davidson within two weeks of his death. "He did not know me," said Rev. Mr. Pickett, in referring to Mr. Davidson. As showing the confidence Jonah Davidson placed in his son, Randall, Mr. Williams stated the incident of Mark Bradley conveying Frank P. Boles to Mr. Davidson's home, as Mr. Davidson saw him in reference to some monuments work Mr. Davidson had thought of having done. Mr. Davidson said: "Yes, I want the work done, but wait until Randall comes up." John Minor, a prominent citizen of the town, was surprised at the change in Mr. Davidson. "He looked as if he were near his end and as if he was almost gone," Mr. Minor stated. "Of all the witnesses who have been before you, your honor," said Mr. Williams, "there one whose testimony you would have more faith in than that of Mrs. Alice Merwin?"

State's Attorney Warner of Salisbury, who opened the case for the Babcocks, spoke in his usual vigorous manner. He said in part: "Mr. Davidson had lived 365 days longer, Randall Davidson would not have appeared in this court to defend his father's deed. I ask you to scrutinize the actions of this loving son." And then turning to Randall Davidson, and raising his hand, Judge Warner exclaimed dramatically, "Why wasn't you there to care for your aged father?" To the question, "Why don't you come here and care for you?" almost every witness testified that that would not be best. The contract he made with the Babcocks was a perfectly natural one. The only pity is, Randall Davidson, that you did not go to see your old father often. One of the witnesses has testified that Jonah Davidson said, "The boy, Randall, was all right, but he did not want any more ministrations of his daughter-in-law." How can Attorney Williams call the Babcocks designing, villainous, and conspirators, when they see for Randall Davidson at the time this deed was to be drawn. On the occasion of signing the deed the only important thing came from Randall and Henry Davidson.

Attorney Arthur Warner of Woodbury closed the case for the Babcocks, while Attorney Williams spoke forcibly and eloquently for his client.

KENT.

A DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.
Every one is looking forward with pleasure to the dramatic entertainment to be given in Hull's Opera house at Kent on Friday evening, November 23, at 8 o'clock. A farce entitled "A Charming Dish Tragedy," will open the evening with the following heavy cast: Mrs. Grant, Miss Constance Haxton, Jennie, her servant, Dorothy Hopson, Arthur, her husband, a little hard of hearing, Mrs. Ruth Fuller Field, Jim, Mrs. Grant's brother, and nephew-in-law to Aunt Loretta, Mrs. S. Thayer. Next will be presented the drama, "Barbara," by Jerome K. Jerome. Mrs. Ruth Roberts, Lillie, Barbara's adopted sister, Miss Dorothy Hopson, Cecil, a poor young author, E. R. Haley, Mr. Finslow, a country doctor, H. S. Thayer. But that is not all. After the drama, ice cream and cake will be served for 15c a plate, and "Kent school" will sing some of their jolly songs to help round out the social evening. Admission 25c; children 15c. All are cordially invited. The proceeds are for the benefit of St. Andrew's church.

Messrs Nichols and Farnum of New Haven were at Monterey Bryant's, last week, to enjoy a tramp through the woods in search of game. Many hunters arrived at the house from the city, but they do not have very good luck, this fall.

A church sociable was held at the residence of E. S. Hinman, last week Wednesday evening, about 40 were realized.

Miss Elizabeth Washington has returned from the New Haven hospital and is recovering nicely from the operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Ann Nash is spending a few weeks at the home of her son, Frank Nash.

Mrs. Harriet Dickerman of New Haven is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradley.

George Chaffield of Waterbury has been a guest at C. B. French's, for several days.

Miss Emily of Naugatuck has been a recent visitor at The Maples.

Master Joe Wheeler has been with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James what Mr. Davidson told me, after he came home. I asked him if he did not think it was best to send for Randall Davidson, but he said it would make no difference. I tried to get Mr. Randall Davidson by telephone, but did not succeed. Later I sent him a telegram. He came up on Tuesday and we all arrived at Mr. Jonah Davidson's place about 1.45 p. m. There was present Randall Davidson, Henry Davidson, Henry Warner and P. P. Randall.

Randall said to his uncle that his father seemed determined to deed away the place. He asked me to talk with his father about it. He thought it would be better to hire some one to take care of him. Jonah Davidson said he did not wish to. Henry Davidson went in to have a talk with his brother, Jonah, and coming out he said: "I am bound to do it. I might as well get through with the work." He asked him (Jonah Davidson) if he wanted to sign the deed, which he did. Mr. Babcock holding him up in bed while he signed the deed. I asked him if it was his own free act and deed and he replied that it was. Henry Davidson went into the bedroom and a few minutes later he and Randall Davidson went into the bedroom and bade Jonah Davidson good-bye, and coming out walked to the station. Mr. Davidson asked me what my bill was and I replied: "Two dollars." He handed me a five dollar bill and gave him three dollars in change. I thought he was mentally capable of understanding the contents of the deed at the time he signed it. His mind seemed perfectly good.

WATER-PROOF and HEAVY SHOES.

As cold, wet weather comes on put a barrier against illness by properly protecting the feet.
Our Long Walker Calf Shoes for men at $2.50 will do the trick.
Other grades at 2.00 and 3.00.
High Cut Storm Shoes $3 and $3.50.
Pedros—Rubber sole and vamp with 12-inch leather top, 2.75.

The Benham Shoe Co.,

DERBY, CONN.

WATCHES!

From $1 to $90.

and every one guaranteed as

Perfectly Satisfactory Value

for the money paid. Imported and American Watches, the kind that don't need watching.

C. Howard Daley & Co.,

JEWELERS,

259 Main Street, Danbury, Connecticut.

doing carpenter work at Allen T. Jennings'.

D. C. Smith is building an extensive addition to the rear of his residence. Contractor Frank E. Perry has the job in charge.

NICHOLS.

NATHAN J. CLARK.

An old resident, Nathan J. Clark, died suddenly at his home, Saturday afternoon, and was buried Tuesday.

Horace Wellington, who has been very ill with blood poisoning, is convalescing nicely. His friends hope to see him about soon.

C. J. Thorpe is painting Mr. Wellington's house.

Mr. Elbert Nichols had the misfortune to shut her finger in the window and injure it very badly.

SOUTH BRITAIN.

The Magazine Club met, last Saturday night, at the home of Mrs. C. B. French.

Miss Gertrude Mitchell is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Treat in New York.

Mrs. Treat is very ill at her home in the Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. C. L. Fortie spent a week with her parents in Springfield. Mr. Cooper occupied the pulpit, Sunday, in his place.

Mrs. William Beecher of Brookfield is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

Mrs. C. B. Pierce is in Rochester, N. Y., the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Mitchell were in Bridgeport over Sunday.

Fred Mitchell of New York spent a few days with the people in Footstuck.

Mrs. Samuel Pierce entertained the Ladies' Whist club, last Friday.

SOUTHERY.

Any man or woman in this section who wishes to engage in a business that will net them from three to five dollars a day from the street, without the investment of any capital, should write The First National Nurseries, 1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y., at once, as they wish to make contract with some one immediately. We understand they have nurseries and seed farms of over 100 acres, probably one of the largest in the country. The position is worth obtaining. The many new horticultural ideas like Country Life in America and the hundreds of local civil societies, devoted to the beautifying of our suburban towns and villages throughout the country, are creating an enormous demand for fancy ornamental stock of every description, and a good reliable man or woman, representing a reliable company, can make a very satisfactory salary from the start. A position of this kind is capable of the largest returns.

Give children a remedy with a pleasant taste. Don't force unpleasant medicine down their throats. Kennedy's Laxative (containing) Honey and Tar is most pleasant to take. Children like it, as well as a relief for colds, coughs, etc., there is nothing better. No opiates. Conforms to National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by all druggists.

FOR THE WEDDING.

You want the BEST you can get.

Hawkes' Cut Glass, Crystal, and Silverware, and the best of the best.

These names stand for the best in their respective lines.

Every piece of their goods has their name on it.

If you want the bride to appreciate your gift be sure and get the above names and see that the trade-mark is on each piece.

C. L. Bryant, Danbury's Leading Jeweler, 225 Main St., Danbury, Conn. Telephone 472-3.

Famous Easy Draft Letter Flow. The newest and best flow made.

W. B. Glover, Newtown, Ct.

Smith, Murray & Co.,

Bridgeport, Conn.

SPECIAL SALE

of Manufacturers' Mill Remnants.

Fine All Wool Dress Fabrics and Silks for Fancy Work.

The Dress Goods are the most desirable of this season's Fabrics in the most desirable colorings. All Wool Henriettas, all colors. Storm Serges in the most wanted shades, Panamas and Voile in black and a few fancy colors.

This is an opportunity to secure at a bargain a good dress or waist pattern at special low prices.

The assortment is large and as a number of the pieces are alike you can match them and get a dress pattern at little money.

They are from two to nine and a half yards. Goods worth 50c to 59c. Sale price 39c yard. Goods worth 69c to $1. Sale price 59c yard. Goods worth $1 to $1.25. Sale price 75c yard. Left aisle, center.

Silk Remnants for Fancy Work.

Just at the time you need them most a manufacturer's samples of short lengths of Plain Silks, Checks and Warp printed Novelties suitable for bags, belts, ties and fancy work at half value. 15c a piece up.

Special Sale of Women's Petticoats.

Petticoats made of black Sateen, deep flounce trimmed with ruffles. Special at $1.25.
Petticoats made of black Sateen, trimmed with deep shirred flounce, 95c. Special at $1.25.
Petticoats made of good quality black Sateen, trimmed with tucked ruffle. Special at $1.25.
Petticoats made of the quality black Mercerized Sateen, trimmed ruffles and bias bands. Special at $1.50.
Petticoats made of Colonial Cloth trimmed with circular flounce and hemstitching. Special at $1.75.
Petticoats made of black Marcelline, trimmed with tucked and ruffled flounce, 82c.
Petticoats made of Heatherbloom Taffeta with tucked, shirred and hemstitched flounce. Special at $2.00, $2.25, $2.50 and $2.75.
A good line of black Moreen Skirts, $2.25, $3.95 and $4.50. (Left Aisle, Rear.)

Muslin Underwear Dept.

Women's colored slips in blue, white, pink and black, long sleeves, 50c each. Women's Jersey Covers, in long or short sleeves, 25c and 50c each.

Smith, Murray & Co.

Announcements of Bethel Business Men.

Lumber!

A. H. SENIOR,

74 South Street, Bethel, Conn.

It Takes Less.

And Cemetery Work of all kinds in any Granite or Marble, and also designs on application. Letting at reasonable prices. J. J. Farnham, Successor to C. W. Boles, BETHEL, CONN.

COAL

Answer every purpose better than any other anthracite. Kindly read, note its steady, long burning, and its low cost. All due reasons. J. J. Farnham, Successor to C. W. Boles, BETHEL, CONN.

SMITH BEERS, Bethel, Ct.

E. W. Gilbert, 15 Center St., Bethel, Conn., Dealer in

Hardware, Wooden, Tin and Enamelled Ware, Paints, Putty, and Varnishes, Japanned and Oil Paints for your Furniture and Floors, Harrow, Stable and Square Blanks, Black and Smokeless Powder, Loaded Shot, Guns and Revolvers, Daisy Air Rifles, Box Plank, Rubbed and Tapered Roofing, Glass and Putty, Galvanized Iron, Wood and Glass Tubs, etc.

Hello, Pard!

Going to the Store? Buy your Groceries or Meats and what you need at McDowell & Taylor's, lowest prices, stop your horse on Center street and get busy right!

McDowell & Taylor's,

Thresh hand side of Center St., Bethel, Conn.

Woonsocket Rubber Boots,

$2.25 pr. Felt Boots, $2.25 and $2.50 Including the snug-proof boot.

Gloves and Mittens.

The largest and most varied lines in town to choose from.

Carriage and Stable Blankets.

A large assortment and prices the lowest.

Caps.

An assortment of twenty-five styles of corduroy, woolen, plush and fur caps.

S. E. Sanford & Co.,

NEWTOWN, CONN.

Rubber and Felt Boots

For Men and Boys. Men's, Ladies' and Children's Rubber.

Quality Superior. Prices Right.

L. C. Morris, Newtown, Conn.

I Sell Farms

And all kinds of real estate. Give me a description of your farm or place and the terms and I do the rest. Write or call on me. I can do you good. JACOB S. MOORE, 100 State St., New Haven, Conn. Tel. 3-2.

Are you Interested in Boys' and Children's Clothing.

Double the wear in ours, to what you get in most makes. Try us.

Dents, Perrins. Adlers,

lined and unlined gloves. These names stand for all that is best in quality and style. Gloves and Mitts for the Boys. Working Gloves.

Striking effects and dainty shades in Neckwear.

English Squares, Four-in-Hand, Bat Wing and Strings.

Prices Modest.

$1.00 to $3.00. SHIRTS. $1.00 to $3.00.